

Periodically, various local Timbrado Seminars are held in the different regions of the country.

The purpose of these seminars is to offer USTF members and interested parties a chance to get some of their questions answered and to share information with one another in regards to the keeping, breeding, and especially the training, staging, and showing of these magnificent little birds.

Contact your regional vice-president for information as to dates and locations in your region. Their contact information will be found on the USTF Home Page (right-hand column).

Seminars have been held (or are currently planned) in Texas, California, Connecticut, and Florida.
